About This Game

SMART CUBE

BUILD - JUMP - ESCAPE

Smart Cube is a first-person puzzle game where you have to escape from a scientific experiment. Get ready to have your intellect tested! The game comes with a lot of obstacles. Gameplay consists of placing or destroy cubes, adding jump pads, or using other devices in order to reach the exit, but this is not very easy to achieve, because the path is blocked by obstacles. The levels contain special tools that help player to plan his escape.

GAME FEATURES

- 50 levels
  - 7 colors
  - Build and destroy cubes
  - Add or remove jump pads
  - Steam Achievements
  - Steam Cloud Save

It's Ok. Not the best game, but what should've I expected for 3.99. Note: This Review/First Impressions was done with a key obtained from the developer. The majority of playtime (6-8 hours) was done via the key obtained via the Humble bundle, but an additional key was released for Steam.

A mashup of Roller Coaster Tycoon, Star Trek, and some parts action RPG. It's not a game for people who need high energy and high actions, but more so for people who like micromanagement, with creating your perfect space station and the perfect crew who specialize in certain areas.

Lots of Management options, in and out of missions.

Lots of building options, with different items and materials.

Crew management and upgrades adds a sense of improvement and experience that you don't see in a lot of simulation games of this type.

Lots of variety all over the place.

Good bang for buck in terms of content.

Slow, methodical gameplay for those who like control.

-:

Action RPG portions can get boring, not enough variety in missions.

Lack of controls on away missions could be better.

UI elements could be added to provide better information to the end user.

For more first impressions and gameplay footage: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eOn6N\_7Edmc. I just tried it to record a stream using the H.264 NVidia Encoder setting, which uses the encoder chip on my NVidia graphics card and it works well. I'm using an MSI GTX 1070 Gaming X graphics card and I have 16Gb DDR3 RAM. An SSD also helps for glitch free recording. Efficient encoder that produces a relatively small file size with high quality compression eg 702 MB for 28min at 30 fps, 1080p with 48KHz stereo sound. Clearly I could compress this further if needed. Nice clean and easy to use interface. It currently meets my needs & so gets my recommendation.. It's a pretty nice game that has that nice 'old game' feel. It's relatively enjoyable, but can make you annoyed if you're trying to do something in a particular way (e.g, grinding for upgrades)

Other than that, it's cheap, enjoyable and nice to play.. Totally worth its price. I played the game in May 2019 and it was bug free, never crashed and was overall awesome. The story is solid, the characters you can have in your party are diverse, the voice acting is top notch. The build diversity is very balanced. You can play the game like an ARPG if you want, or you can RTS build and use "crafted" units if you prefer that style. If you go the ARPG route, I highly suggest making your character a healer, focus on willpower, white magic, cooldown reduction, spell cost reduction and then sit back and heal your 3 party members. The dwarf is hands down the best tank once you upgrade his armor thru quests/items. That leaves you with 2 other party members to use as you want. I also suggest the Orc as a fireball tossing mage with pumped up intelligence and fire spells. You can't really go wrong though, you can crutch on healing pots if you had to and just run 4 DPS. Game is awesome.. totaly worth 1 buck

i was surprised what im getting for 50 cent here in the sale

i had worser games for 60 xD but the first part (Putrefaction1) sucks hands of i buyed it and i could refund it but i keep it to support this guy im sure we will see much better things from him in the future pretty nice. Initially, the DLC wasn't available to use, but an update was pushed out so it now shows up in the main game.

The DLC contains a series of about 10 small events (~1 minute each) where Neptune talks to the player and the player can make some choices in the dialog. Most of the choices just change the dialog for a few lines, then the event ends, with the exception of the last event, which contains a CG for the correct choice. Note that while the store description indicates players will be asked questions about Neptune (her favourite food etc.), this doesn't happen. It's just some dialog choices like you see in the screenshots.

The translation is ok, but there are some errors that could have been fixed, especially considering the length.

Neptune is not my favourite and this DLC is exclusively for Neptune fans. If there was a middle option for this, I'd pick it. In the future, if the translation gets cleaned up, I may change to a positive review.. First off this is the very first review that I have ever done. With that being said this is an amazing NASCAR racing game. However, this game does come with its faults. I bought the game solely intent of adding the 2019 season pass to my game.

I love the fact that they added the new drivers and new color and paint schemes for the new 2019 season, and how they added the new teams and new engine cars. Only issues I see with 2019 season pass is that there are a few cars that look like the real race cars you see on TV, and then there are some that don't (2018 (24 car) A+, 2019 (24 car) F. With that said, the game is fun and exciting. It will take a little work to find that perfect difficulty if your looking for that real authentic racing feel that you would see on TV, but other than that I enjoy playing this game almost every night.. This game has so much potential but unfortunately it has very little content (just 5 scenarios), definitely not worth the $5 I paid for it. I'm not sure if the developers of this title are even still active but I have some suggestions to improve the gameplay:

- Add more scenarios (this can include asthma attacks, anaphylaxis, COPD exacerbations, pulmonary embolism etc.)
- Add more medications (On the MI case the first drug I wanted to give was Aspirin but it was not available. I would suggest adding Aspirin, Paracetamol, Ibuprofen, Loratadine, Salbutamol/Ipratropium, Tramadol etc.)
- Improve the questioning (you can model it along the lines of the SAMPLE and OPQRST models to make them more structured)
- Add different qualifications (as you progress through the game you can be 'promoted' from First Responder to EMT to Paramedic etc)
- Add the option to call for back up/assistance
- Add more options for Oxygen administration (e.g. nasal prongs, bag valve mask)

That's just a few suggestions. I'd love to see this game get updated soon.. This is the game I have played the most for VR, I really recommend it. The games included within the game and my rating on them are as follows.

Bowling - 6/10, the way the game makes you hold the bowling ball is awkward, but if you get used to it i'm sure it is fine.

Homerun Derby - 8/10, my third favorite game out of the 8. It has 3 different difficulties that make the ball faster. Definitely feels rewarding when you hit homeruns.

Soccer - 7/10, in this gamemode you play as a goalie. It looks easy, but is very challenging because you can only block the soccer ball with your hands.

Basketball - 10/10, in this gamemode you play a 3 point contest. This is definitely one of the games that keeps me coming back to this game. It includes 2 modes, one 3 point contest with 6 minutes that takes place in a park and one 3 point contest with a single minute that takes place in a indoor basketball court.

Japanese Archery - 8/10, great for what it is. It will most likely make your arm sore after a game or two.

Clay Shooting - 8/10, also great for what it is. It sometimes gets confusing, but I did enjoy playing it a few times. The other games just are a lot more fun than this one.

Boxing - 9/10, The only thing bringing the game down are some of its physics, but once you figure out a pattern that fits you, you will really enjoy it. Another game that keeps me coming back for more.

Kart - 9/10, Probably one of the biggest reasons you are considering purchasing this game. I have tried a few racing games and this was one of my favorite, and also it is very cheap compared to other VR racing games. It feels realistic when steering. This game also includes 3 modes.

Overall Game - 9/10, pretty much a more interactive wii sports in VR.
